RE: WAC 230-40-825

In an attempt to maintain adequate game protection, preserve compliance with both State and Federal rules and provide excellent customer service to our patrons, I am requesting an amendment to WAC 230-40-825.

On busy days the existing rule is exhausting and prohibits the Floor Supervisors and Surveillance Observers from sufficiently protecting the assets of their organization and uphold other rules such as the Bank Secrecy Act Title 31, Currency Transaction Reporting while constantly communicating between each other to satisfy WAC 230-40-825 section 2 (C). Furthermore, the Floor Supervisor is expected to verify money transactions of $100 or more, detect possible cheating schemes from both dealers and players, maintain chip inventory etc. The Surveillance Observer is expected to protect the organization, play back tape, monitor suspicious activity and report their findings on a log. Additionally, as of July 1st, 2004 each "Card Room" is allowed to offer $200 maximum bets on a certain amount of tables as described by law.

The current trend of Washington State Card Rooms is "carnival tables" such as Spanish 21, Lucky Ladies, Three-Card Poker, Four-Card Poker, and Fortune Pai-Gow etc. Each game offers odds from 1:1 to an excess of 5,000:1. In short, if a player wagers $100 on a bonus hand and the odds are 5:1 or greater, the Floor Supervisor is required to stop all action, call Surveillance and wait until the Observer has "verified the winning hand, the amount of the wager, and the player who won the prize" per WAC 230-40-825.

By Amending WAC 230-40-825 to trigger at $1,000 instead of $500 each card room is able to operate more efficiently.

Thank you very much for considering the attached amendment.

Thank you,

Robert Dayton
